ARBOR AND BIRD DAY.

The NEWS has received from the Department of Education, and the commissions of State Superintendent Barksdale Hamlett, a handsomely illustrated copy of the book called "Kentucky Arbor and Bird Day." As its name indicates the book treats of Kentucky trees and birds, and it is written in a very attractive and instructive way. The book also contains the words and music of several appropriate songs.

HALLOWE'EN.

Very little was done by way of "celebrating" this annual occasion. Aside from defacing some windows and littering front yards with rubbish and doing a few other things which were just as funny, nothing was done to mark the event.

CONGRESS RETAINS DEMOCRATIC CONTROL

Both Houses are Still in Harmony With President Wilson, by Reduced Majority.

The election leaves both houses of Congress in the hands of the Democrats, the Senate by an increased majority and the House by a plurality considerably reduced, but safe.

New York elected a Republican Governor and United States Senator. Ohio is very close in the Governor's race, with the Republicans having apparently won the Governorship and United States Senator. Prohibition lost in Ohio.

Sullivan, Democrat, in Illinois, claims the victory by 20,000 for the United States Senate. This claim is disputed by the Republican, Sherman.

In Pennsylvania Penrose, Republican, snatched under both Palmer and Pinchot, Democrat and Progressive, and the Republican candidate for Governor looked an easy winner, defeating Vance McCormick.

One of the most noticeable features of the election was the falling off in the Progressive vote.

T. C. Rye, the Democratic nominee was elected Governor of Tennessee.

Woman suffrage was defeated in six States.

MRS. MARTHA J. MAYNARD.

Mrs. Martha Jane Maynard spent a day last week with her cousin, R. T. Burns. She is nearly 85 years old but wonderfully preserved in mind and body. She is active as a girl and but for her snow-white hair would look she was not older than forty.

She was born on East Fork, near the mouth of Garner creek, then Lawrence county, now Boyd. In infancy her father moved to Louisa, where she resided until her marriage to Mr. Rider. They moved to Pikeville where she continued to reside until after the death of her second husband, Mr. Lindsey Maynard, well known in Sandy Valley.

She has children living in the far West. Unaccompanied by anyone she visited them last year, also returning alone after a good long stay with them. She walked from Mr. Burns' over to Fort Gay station carrying quite a grip; would allow no one to carry it for her.

Although quite limited in education, she is exceedingly well informed, especially in the Holy Scriptures. She is an old-fashioned red-hot Methodist and don't believe in the "new fangled worldly ways of serving the Lord," as she puts it. She is the oldest child of John L. Burns, known as "Uncle Doc" a full sister to Rev. James Harvey Burns, now deceased, but for over 50 years a leading member of the Western Virginia Conference of the M. E. Church South. She is half-sister to Mrs. Mary Freese, our city. Her many friends hope she may reach the century mark, and she bids fair to do so.

PROHIBITION LAW PROHIBITS.

Since July 1 when the Prohibition law went into effect, 926 arrests have been made in seventeen of the principal cities of the state of which 295 had been for drunkenness. In the corresponding period in 1913 there were 1831 arrests of which 856 were for drunkenness. The largest number of indictments under the Yost law charging illegal sale of liquor were 70 in Kanawha county and 63 in Fayette. More arrests have been made for drunkenness in Charleston than in any other five cities in the state.

LOGAN CIRCUIT COURT.

The October term of Logan Circuit Court is now drawing to a close. The term has been a busy one, a great volume of business having been disposed of in a short space of time. Among the cases settled were the following: W. H. Baker granted a divorce from Dora Baker; Stella Booth divorced from Ed Booth; Charley Madison found guilty of liquor law violation and fined $500 and sentenced to six months work on the roads; John Lowry pleaded guilty to selling liquor unlawfully and was fined $50 and given two months road work; Ella Kennedy pleaded guilty to selling liquor and drew $100 fine and two months in jail; Vance Haskett pleaded guilty to unlawful selling and was fined $50 and sentenced to six months on road work—Logan Democrat.

He will bring with him the very latest style developments. Come and see this collection of individual costumes by the greatest Paris dressmakers.

GOOD MISSIONARIES.

A number of Salvation Army people visited Louisa this week, holding street services three or four times. These worthy men and women are good missionaries, reaching a class which others do not seem to get in touch with. The Louisa visitors are good talkers and good singers, presenting the claims of the Gospel plainly and forcibly. The Army is doing a great work all over the world. They labor for the people, irrespective of creed or condition. Help them along.

SENATOR JOHNSON N. CAMDEN

GREAT RECORDS BEING MADE ON RIVER WORK.

The National Contract Company, in which Messrs. J. C. Thomas and H. A. Scholze, of Louisa, are stockholders and officers, continues to break records on the Ohio river. The company is now building its fourth lock and dam, which contracts amount to about one million dollars each. The last one is at New Richmond, twenty miles above Cincinnati. This work has been under the direct supervision of Mr. Thomas. It was started last spring and the progress made during the season surpasses all records heretofore made. FARMERS' INSTITUTE AT LOUISA NOV. 16-17

Practical Instruction Will be Given in All Kinds of Farm Subjects.

A movable school of agriculture or Farmers' Institute will be held at the court house, Louisa, Ky., Nov. 16th and 17th, by the State Department of Agriculture of Kentucky, Extension Department of College of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture. The above institution have combined to avoid duplication of work and to give instruction in agriculture to the farmers of the State free of cost.

Practical instruction will be given in Fruit Growing, Soil Building, Grain Growing, Live Stock and Poultry Raising, Home Economics, and in other farm subjects. Both men and women are cordially invited to attend. The State Board of Agriculture deems the above arrangement an advancement along agricultural lines and feels the County Farmers' Institute will be given a broader field of usefulness by this co-operative work.

Concerning the coming Institute Commissioner of Agriculture Newman writes as follows:

"We have a good strong lecture force in the field composed of Messrs. W. H. Clayton, J. T. Adair, H. B. Hendrick and Miss Mary Sweeney, and we think they will present a program which will be well worth while for you to attend."

Dr. Fred Mutchler, State Agent Demonstration Work, will be here on Nov. 17th with the expectation of organizing a Strawberry Growers' Association, and locate and put in motion the necessary means for starting a Fruit Experiment Station. He will doubtless be accompanied by Prof. Carmody, whom we are always pleased to have with us. Mr. Carmody is the acknowledged authority on fruit and the garden. He knows much of horticulture, and imparts information with precision and dispatch.

Concerning the coming Institute the NEWS will here make the further announcement that on the evening of Friday, Nov. 13th, Mr. T. B. Stokes, the Boy's Pig Club man, of the Agricultural Department, will give a lecture in one of the rooms at the college building on the subject of Pig Clubs. To this address he invites the presence of the school teachers and the boys of the county, promising to entertain and instruct all who may go. He hopes to be able to attend the Farmers' Institute and will take part in that meeting. Lawrence is one of the twelve counties in the State which may get the services of Mr. Stokes, but something must be done to show that he is wanted in our county if we get him.

The coming Institute should be the best in all respects the county ever had. Let us try to make it so.

CHEROKEE.

In the past few weeks I met with some cases of black leg. Black leg is a most virulent, rapidly fatal, infectious disease of cattle. All young cattle that have begun to forage for themselves are most susceptible to the disease. Sheep and goats may also contract the disease, but horses, hogs, dogs, fowls and man are immune.

The name of the disease describes it fairly well. If we take all the symptoms and effects into consideration, Black leg is a disease peculiar to young cattle and should not be confounded with anthrax, which attacks horses, mules, sheep, goats and man. The symptoms of black leg are characteristic and easily recognized by the careful observer. They begin from one to three days after infection has taken place, with loss of appetite and of rumination, with dullness and debility and high fever. Lameness or stiffness of one or more limbs due to the most important symptoms is the swelling under the skin located on the thighs, the shoulders, the neck, flank. At first small, the swelling spreads rapidly in extent and depth, and in the first stages is very painful. When struck or handled, a peculiar crackling sound is heard under the skin, due to a collection of gas formed by the germs as they multiply.

There is no doubt but what black leg is caused by a specific bacillus which gains entrance to the tissues and muscles through wounds and abrasions principally of the skin, sometimes by the mouth, tongue and throat. Slight wounds caused by stubble, barbed wire, thorns, briars, sharp or pointed parts of food.

By this it will be seen that black leg is a germ disease of the most pronounced type. The germs get into the tissues and multiply with great rapidity, and germs soon produce millions. Animals thus infected nearly always die within one to three days. When death comes the body of the victim should be promptly burned, or buried deep and covered with lime, to prevent the spread of infection, which is conveyed by animals or birds who eat the carcasses; by the feet of animals or man who tread about infected places, or by the animals themselves when infected and still living. Therefore, burning the dead is much to be preferred, as a protection to the surviving animals.

I hope the people will consider this as a business proposition.

BECKHAM AND CAMDEN WIN

Majority of 30,000 for Democratic United States Senators.--Fields Wins by Large Majority.

Kentucky went Democratic last Tuesday by about 30,000. The majorities of Beckham and Camden for the long and short terms in the Senate will reach about that figure. It is a great victory.

The Congressional delegation remains the same—nine Democrats and two Republicans. Powers and Langley are re-elected by majorities somewhat reduced.

Fields won in the Ninth district by something like 3000.

Louisville and Jefferson county gave Beckham 12,212 plurality over Willson, who was claiming that he would carry it by about that amount.

Beckham Carried Ninth District.

According to R. H. Vansant, chairman of the State Democratic Committee, Beckham carried the Ninth district by over 3100. The unofficial returns are as follows:

Beckham—Lawrence 100, Elliott 500, Morgan 768, Breathitt 748, Wolfe 400, Menifee 300, Montgomery 235, Bath 250, N. Holmes 641, Harrison 926, Fleming 171, Bracken 341, Robertson 241, Willson—Mason 20, Lewis 875, Boyd 450, Greenup 200, Carter 500, Rowan 30. Fields, for Congress, ran between 300 and 500 ahead of Beckham.

Wayne County Goes Democratic.

In Wayne county, W. Va., the entire Democratic ticket was elected by varying majorities. County Clerk S. J. Crum; County Commissioner, C. M. Fraley; Supt. of Schools, O. J. Riffe; Pres. D. T. & I. CO. ANNOUNCES ASHLAND AS RATE POINT.

The D. T. & I. Company announces that after November 16th, Ashland, Ky. will be made the Southern terminal of this road, arrangements having been made for the use of the transfer in the south side of Ironton. After this date Ashland will be named as a rate point in all the D. T. & I. cards.

Well posted railroad men in Ashland and eastern Kentucky say this is a certain indication that the Ohio river is to be bridged at this point in the very near future as the D. T. & I. company will certainly seek a junction with the C. C. & O. road which is to parallel the Big Sandy river through the coal fields of Eastern Kentucky and West Virginia. The proposition to build the C. C. & O. has been under consideration for a long time and it is believed that active steps towards this end will be taken in the very near future.

HANDCUFFED TO PRISONER.

Louis Maynard, a deputy sheriff of Mingo county, handcuffed to Adam Harmon, who had been arrested in Louisa on a charge of shooting with intent to kill, were taken in charge in Ashland and locked up on a charge of intoxication.

After a search the sheriff, who had accompanied the prisoner and deputy to Ashland, was found, but he could not locate the key to the handcuffs, and it was necessary to take them to a machine shop to file off the handcuffs. The sheriff later found the key in one of his pockets.—Independent.

ASTHMA AND HAY FEVER
A GUARANTEED TREATMENT

"I have arranged with the Louisa Drug Store Co. so that every sufferer from Asthma, Hay Fever or Bronchial Asthma in Louisa can try my treatment entirely at my risk." Dr. Rudolph Schiffmann announces. He says: "Buy a 50-cent package of my Asthmador, try it, and if it does not afford you immediate relief, or if you do not find it the best remedy you have ever used, take it back to the Louisa Drug Store Co. and they will return your money, cheerfully and without any question whatever. After seeing the grateful relief it has afforded in hundreds of cases, which had been considered incurable, and which had been given up in despair, I know what it will do. I am so sure that it will do the same with others that I am not afraid to guarantee it will relieve instantaneously. The druggists handling Asthmador will return your money if you say so. You are to be the sole judge and under this positive guarantee, absolutely no risk is run in buying Asthmador."

Persons living elsewhere will be supplied under the same guarantee by their local druggist or direct by Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn.

Everybody who is afflicted with Rheumatism in any form should by all means keep a bottle of Sloan's Liniment on hand. The minute you feel pain or soreness in a joint or muscle, bathe it with Sloan's Liniment. Do not rub it. Sloan's penetrates almost immediately right to the seat of pain, relieving the hot, tender, swollen feeling and making the part easy and comfortable. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25 cents of any druggist and have it in the house against colds, sore and swollen joints, rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief.

H. C. SULLIVAN FOR COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY.
We are authorized to announce H. C. SULLIVAN, of Lawrence county, as a candidate for the nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney for the 32nd Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

G. W. CASTLE FOR COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY.
G. W. Castle, of Lawrence county, announces his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney for the 32nd Judicial District, primary election in August 1915, earnestly requesting the support of all Democrats of the district.

We are authorized to announce JOHN M. WAUGH as a candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney of the 32nd Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic party in the primary of August, 1915.

We are authorized to announce W. D. O'NEAL, JR., as a candidate for the nomination for Circuit Judge of the 32nd Judicial District, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

We are authorized to announce JUDGE M. M. REDWINE as a candidate for Circuit Judge of the district composed of Lawrence, Elliott, Carter and Morgan counties, subject to the action of the Democrats in the primary election the first Saturday in August, 1915.

November A. M. dawned as fair as her sister, September Morn, but she needed a few more clothes.

It does not accord with the eternal fitness of things that in the local option election held in Kentucky Bourbon should vote "dry" and Christiana go "wet."

Hugger, Progressive candidate for Commissioner in Lawrence county, O., was defeated. He should have waited until the women of his State are allowed to vote.

The unprecedented landslide through out the United States two years ago made Congress overwhelmingly Democratic. Dozens of strong Republican districts elected Democrats, and there was no reason to hope for the performance to be repeated. It is always so after an upheaval. The people very largely settle back to their normal positions. The Democrats have done well in the election this week, under all the conditions. They have retained control of the lower house of Congress and have increased their majority in the Senate.

The European war has disturbed business conditions in this country very seriously and the opposing politicians have used the bad features of the situation for campaign material and a lot of voters have swallowed it, as usual.

President Wilson might have played politics and made a lot of votes, but he isn't that kind of a man. He went right along and did his duty, regardless of the possible effect on the voters at this election. He is willing to wait for the results of the laws later on.

OUCH! LUMBAGO PAIN! RUB BACKACHE AWAY

Instant Relief with a small trial bottle of old "St. Jacob's Oil."

Kidneys cause Backache? No! They have no nerves, therefore can not cause pain. Listen! Your backache is caused by lumbago, sciatica or a strain, and the quickest relief is soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil." Rub it right on your painful back, and instantly the soreness, stiffness and lameness disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacob's Oil" from your druggist and rub it up. A moment after it is applied you'll wonder what became of the backache or lumbago pain.

Rub old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" whenever you have sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism or sprains, as it is absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

The Big Sandy News speaks very complimentary of Mr. Fred Dixon, who has opened a first class jewelry store in the Hopkins building, and whose announcement appears elsewhere in this issue. The Post extends him a hearty welcome.—Prestonsburg Post.

The Rev. A. M. Dial, of the Christian Church, has returned from Paintsville, where he held a successful meeting. He will fill his Louisa pulpit next Sunday.

An Interesting Letter From Our Neighboring County.

There is to be a Farmers' Institute held at the court house, this city, Nov. 6 and 7. There will be speakers here from the United States Agricultural Department and the program is to cover all branches of farming, as well as horticulture. Every farmer in Boyd county should be present. Many farmers reject the new-fangled ideas and you that do will be "sucking the hind-most tit" after a while. Be present every day; there is always something to learn, and a willing mind is an apt student.

A traffic arrangement between the Ashland Coal & Iron Railway Co. and the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railway Co., whereby freight cars passing over the latter road are to be ferried and switched into the freight depot and yards of the former road by the Ashland Coal & Iron Co., thus giving the shippers of Ashland and those south of the Ohio river a direct route north to the Great Lakes. This will prove a great help especially to our lumber mills.

The Fiscal Court appropriated $600 at their last meeting as part pay for the salary of an expert in farming, who will spend his whole time among our farmers and truckers and give aid and council upon the scientific principles of farming. Our farmers are probably more interested in stock growing than they are in wheat, corn and rye, still they may be able to improve their methods on this line.

Deputy Sheriff Riffe was pretty badly used up in a wire fence Tuesday night in a chase after Henderson Stephenson for whom the deputy had a warrant. Wire fences or face wounds do not stop Estill Riffe on a chase like this. Stephenson is now out of jail under a $100 bond to answer at the next term of our criminal court.

Pearl Bolt, of Bolts Fork, was here on a business mission Wednesday.

Stanhope Patton was able to be out on Wednesday to register.

Commonwealth's Attorney W. H. May and Sam Russell passed here on Wednesday going to Morehead, where Attorney May will participate as counsel in a murder trial.

John Coleman and wife, of Regina, are stopping at the Fuller hotel.

Squire James Woods, one of Lawrence county's most prosperous farmers and stockmen, was here on business on Wednesday last.

Dr. John Belle Bartram, of Ashland, was called here on a professional visit Wednesday.

W. R. Music, the recently made benedict, was meeting his friends here this week.

Dr. Lon Prichard, of Bolts Fork, seeing the necessity of conserving time, has purchased a Ford auto, and hereafter will use it in making calls to patients living on such roads as an auto can be moved over.

Isaac Fannin, a successful stockman of Culbertson, was here on Saturday. Mr. Fannin has treated himself to a spic and span new home. "Drink, eat and be merry for tomorrow ye may die" is Mr. Fannin's policy. Enjoy life while you live.

John Stanley, of Bolts Fork, was here on Saturday last.

Ed White, of Ellington's Bear creek, and whose mother was a daughter of Uncle Stephen Bradley, of Morgan's Creek and who has a host of relatives in Lawrence county, was here on Saturday en route to Ashland.

John Childers, of Coalton, but who has for many years been employed in the Kanawha coal fields, is here to cast a vote for Beckham, Fields, etc. John, when election comes, is always "Johnnie on the spot" and is here.

Friday was a great day here among our educators. A big crowd and much enthusiasm. Speeches were delivered by Prof. H. H. Cherry, of Bowling Green, J. G. Crabbe, of Richmond, Attorney C. L. Williams, of this city, and many other local pedagogues. A lecture on agriculture was delivered by W. M. Martin, which was wholly out of place and accord. Our common school system does not provide for the teaching of agriculture, we have no textbooks for the guidance of our teachers and no provision for its teaching. The manner in which our State educational department recognizes the teaching of all others in the development of our nation's wealth and stability is a brazen insult to intelligent farming and to intelligent farmers.

Under our present school system a child may learn to read, write (a little) and to do some problems in mathematics and that is all that is good in it. There is not one youth in 100 who passes the common school branches who can properly draft a promissory note, prepare a deed of release or draw a commercial paper. In fact, there are precious few of our teachers who can draw a business paper, and then try to teach a woman how to plow; how to reap, or worm tobacco, scald hogs. Listen, where are we drifting? Probably this accounts for Kentucky being 17th as to money paid into her schools and 42nd as to proficiency. Where does this 25 per cent discrepancy belong? To whose door should it be laid? The State educational department, the County Superintendent, the trustee or the teacher. Taxpayers, investigate and be your own judge.

Ex-Sheriff Harvey Salters, of Yatesville, was on our streets Saturday. We have a wholesale whiskeyhouse here that employs eleven young lady stenographers. And yet the county including West Virginia is dry.

Jaller Deboard reports 58 in jail. If the country was dry that would not be the case. Kentucky has 106 dry counties in the state and 120 wet ones. Don't you see!

Joe Ross, of East Ashland, made a trip through the East Fork valley Monday.

Judge R. E. Stanley, of Prestonsburg, is here on a few days' business mission.

Attorney C. D. Stephens, of Pikeville, is here en route to Greenup county.

The drop in the tube from 55 to 25 made us all shiver.

FALLING HAIR MEANS DANDRUFF IS ACTIVE

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is naive evidence of a neglected scalp, of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

NOTICE.

All persons owing me for merchandise on account are hereby requested to settle same promptly on or before Dec. 1, 1914. After that date I will sell on a different plan. All systems of accounts have been burdensome and profitless, as I have been in business only three years and now have on my books $1863.45. I sincerely thank those friends and customers who have always paid me promptly and will have a proposition that should appeal to all. M. M. BAKER, Cordell, Ky.

A WORD TO THE TRAPPERS AND HUNTERS.

Don't kill the light fur animals till December. Then pelts will begin to be good. Then sell them to us; we are the largest dealers in Furs and Hides in Eastern Kentucky.

We only have 4 grades—No. 1, 2, 3, 4. Many houses have 12 grades. We give 50 per cent more than any shipper can get in bunch lots of $500 or more. We ship direct to London sales; this knocks out the middle man profit. Write us for price list on furs. In fur season we gladly answer. Send your pelts by parcel post. We pay the expense. We return your money on the day we receive them.

We want veal calf hides, green, blue, 1, 15 pounds. No. 1 Horse Hides $4.50, No. 2, $1.50 to $2.50. We buy corn; we pay 50c bushel in groceries. We pay 6c lb. for fat heifers, half cash and half store. We pay cash for eggs. We buy the coffee that grows high in top of the trees, where bears and germs of fever can't get it. We sell 5000 pounds every year of this good old reliable grandpa and grand-ma coffee. There are about 14 different grades of coffee. We buy the right kind. Give us a call. We give full weight and measure.

SEE IF THE CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED

If cross, feverish, constipated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for weak kidneys.

Recommended by thousands—home testimony proves their merit.

J. B. Peters, Lock Ave., Louisa, says: "I was in bad shape with kidney trouble. After sitting for a few moments and attempting to get up, my back felt as if a heavy weight was tied to it. Sharp pains darted through my kidneys. After stooping, it was hard to straighten. Rheumatic pains seemed to shoot all through my body, particularly in my knees, hips and joints. I was languid and all run down when I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured all the troubles. I have no hesitation in confirming my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills."

JEAN.

On Wednesday, Oct. 14th, another of our good citizens was called to his home on high without a moment's warning. Jessie Hicks, son of Jas. Hicks, of this place, was the victim.

He had been complaining some time with his heart and on this day said he felt much better and was out around the cane mill and probably helped his boys haul two loads of cane during the day and at night at supper thanked the Lord that he had been spared another day. After supper he complained of eating too much, and stepped out in the yard, walked back to the fire, sat down, and then walked back out on the porch, staggered back to the bed and fell across it and was dead.

He leaves a wife and three children, one daughter grown and two boys, aged 14 and 16, other relatives and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

He was a hard-working man, honest and a christian, having confessed Christ just a short time ago.

He is badly missed by his many friends as well as by his christian family.

So let us try to live right And meet him on that Golden Shore, Where we can always be with him And enjoy his smiles evermore.

A FRIEND.

ANANIAS ELOPES

His Tale of Woe

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Ananias Sline had at last made up his mind. Of all the desirable widows and spinsters in Quince Harbor none seemed so attractive as Mrs. Em Bevis, who was the proprietor of the Quince Harbor dry goods store. If any one had remotely suggested to Ananias that the profitable little business had enhanced the charms of the Widow Bevis in his middle aged eyes he would have laughed one to scorn. Still, being half proprietor of a dry goods business was infinitely better than being porter in a village bank. Any one would admit that!

When he put the question to Mrs. Bevis it was noontime and her two rosy cheeks were gone home to dinner. Ananias had assured himself that they two were alone, and he had promptly possessed himself of the widow's generous hand and told her the story of his lonely life and his longing for a home, provided she would pre-side over it.

"Oh, Ananias," she simpered. "I never dreamed—I never thought—oh!" she shrieked as Ananias imprinted a kiss on her work worn hand.

That evening Ananias called upon her and discussed their early marriage.

"There's only one obstacle to a fancy wedding," said Ananias when Em Bevis had outlined a plan for the ceremony to take place in the Baptist church, with her little niece as flower girl and white satin ribbons festooned from the tops of the pews.

"And that is?" asked Em in a disappointed tone.

"My landlady."

"Hetty Rowell? My land, you ain't engaged to her, be you?" inquired the widow sharply.

"Not if I know it," said Ananias cautiously. "But somehow I never know where I stand with Widow Rowell. Em! I swan I never proposed marriage to her in my life, but half the time she talks like she was engaged to me! I wish we could be married in a few days," added Ananias.

"But what's your hurry?" protested Em. "I'd like a chance to make some wedding clothes and get ready!"

"I know it, my love," cooed Ananias in her ear, "but I am afraid of the Widow Rowell. Great blizzards, I am! I talk in my sleep, you know. What if she should hear me saying something about you? It would be all up in the air!"

By the time Ananias went home he had persuaded his fiancée that she could select a very presentable trousseau from the stock of her own department store; so, relieved of this momentous question, Em agreed to elope with Ananias on the following Thursday, and Ananias wrote a note to the Rev. Josiah Twigg apprising him of the coming event and asking him to consider the matter as entirely confidential.

That night Ananias let himself into his boarding place and tiptoed up to his room with unusual caution. One never knew when the Widow Rowell would pounce out. And one never knew in what part of the house she was seeking a night's repose. She had a pleasantly careless custom of taking prospective guests through her spacious old house and permitting them to choose whatever room suited the moment's fancy, provided it was disengaged. As for herself, she slept around as fancy dictated—one night the west front chamber appealed to her, for she loved to hear the roar of the waves on the beach; the next night it might be a small hall room for the moment uncopied that would tickle her restless impulse.

What Ananias did not know was that on this particular evening the widow had been approached by the proprietor of the Quince Harbor hotel and asked to accommodate a half dozen guests for whom he could find no room until the following day. Mrs. Rowell sweetly assented and gathered up her own belongings and carried them into a tiny room next to the room of Ananias Sline. Here she dropped her weary limbs upon a most uncomfortable cot and slept.

The sound of the softly closed front door aroused her. If that was Ananias Sline tiptoeing in at such a late hour she would have a serious talk with him in the morning. Either he had been courting—and that was not to be allowed, for Hetty Rowell felt that she had a prior right to the affections of Mr. Sline—or he had been to lodge meeting, and as it wasn't lodge night—why, he must have been courting! So there the widow's logical mind calculated the matter, as we know, quite correctly.

She dozed off to sleep again and awoke to the resounding snores of Mr. Sline in the next room.

"Drat him!" she muttered, turning over. But she could not sleep again. She got to thinking about Ananias and where he had spent the evening, and she decided that it was Em Bevis who had captured him.

She was convinced of it when Ananias ceased snoring and fell to talking, as was his habit when the day had been an exciting one. "Ahem," babbled Ananias. "Ahem, next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock!

"My dear Mr. Twigg, would you perform a most interesting service for me? Of course I shall wear a white flower in my coat—ahem! I'm not afraid—no, siree! I, Ananias, take thee, Em Bevis—no; that's not right, Em—Em—Emma—or Emmaline—ah!" Mr. Sline resorted to snoring once more, and the widow, now thoroughly awake to the pith of her star boarder, sat up in bed and fell to planning. When the Widow Rowell fell to planning—well, things usually happened.

For an entire week she watched and waited and listened and peeked and pried, and when Thursday evening drew around she was possessed in some mysterious manner of most of the details of the approaching elopement. She knew that Hetty Rowell's buggy had been engaged and that Hetty was to harness the sorrel horse, although Hetty Rowell didn't know what Ananias Sline wanted to do with a buggy.

By Thursday evening Ananias Sline was shivering with nervous dread. He had a feeling that in some way or other his elopement would be frustrated. Time and again he had found the Widow Rowell's wits could outmatch his own, but so far as he knew not a soul was aware of the approaching marriage save the prospective bride, the minister and himself.

Ananias ate scarcely any supper, although Mrs. Rowell had prepared his favorite dish of oyster stew. She sat opposite him and blinked her eyes at him until he gulped down a huge cup of scalding hot tea and bolted away from the table.

"Little dear!" murmured the widow with a strange smile on her face.

Ananias locked himself into his room and made an elaborate if hasty toilet. After many maneuvers he let himself out and managed to escape by the back hall door. There was no sign of the widow, and he hoped she had gone to call upon one of her cronies. It would be ill luck indeed if she had taken it into her head to call upon Em Bevis, though the two rivals were not the best of friends since Ananias came between them.

Still, the Widow Rowell was apt to do the most baffling things.

Ananias hurried to Hetty's stables and climbed into the buggy which a grinning negro had prepared for him. He drove rapidly out of the yard, nearly losing a wheel in the turn, for he was not a skillful driver.

Quince Harbor folks are inquisitive and prone to mind each other's business to a most annoying degree; therefore it had been decided that Em Bevis was to wait for Ananias in Whippoorwill lane by the brook. He would catch her up into the vehicle, and away they would go to Big Harbor.

Whippoorwill lane was there, and so was Em Bevis, for Ananias recognized the white veil she was to wear about her uncovered head.

He pressed her hand and received a tender pressure in return. After that they rode in silence through the woods toward Big Harbor.

At last they reached the main street of Big Harbor, and the sorrel horse chose to gallop madly until Ananias, sawing at the reins, managed to bring him to a stop before the gate of the parsonage.

"Belay there!" yelled the little ex-sailor angrily just as the minister opened the front door and stepped into the porch to meet them.

The prospective bride got out unaided while Ananias was tying the sorrel horse and she was inside the house by the time Ananias had reached the gate.

When Ananias Sline reached the parlor, where stood the beaming clergyman and his smiling wife and a couple of servants for witnesses, he stood in the doorway agast at the sight that met his amazed eyes. The bride was there—a bride was there, indeed, but not the one he had so carefully chosen! Standing there in the modest splendor of a gray satin dress hurriedly gar-nished with white lace and bunches of artificial orange blossoms was the Widow—Rowell!

Em Bevis was nowhere to be seen.

Somehow he had been tricked by the artful widow whom he had at first courted, only to leave when a better chance presented itself. Surely retri-bution was close upon the heels of Ananias Sline!

"We are waiting, Mr. Sline," reminded Mr. Twigg, smiling benevolently.

"Dear Ananias!" cooed Hetty Rowell, fixing her agate colored eyes upon him.

Ananias moved forward mechanically. There seemed nothing else to do. Things were hideously mixed and a bitter fate seemed to have driven him straight into the arms of the Widow Rowell. He felt that she had outwitted him again—never more would he try to get the best of her. He would admit defeat. As for Em Bevis, what could he do about it now without creating a scandal that would shake the three villages to the core?

Nothing! No Ananias went forward and was joined in the bonds of holy matrimony to Hetty Rowell. When the ceremony was over Mrs. Twigg congratulated them warmly.

"It's the oddest thing," she babbled, "but Josiah and I really thought the bride—we understood it was to be—another. We are quite surprised!"

"So are we!" smiled Mrs. Ananias Sline as she took her husband's arm and went down to the waiting buggy and the impatient sorrel horse.

Somebody tossed an old shoe after them for luck, and it struck Ananias right in the back of the neck, so that he uttered an explosive blast of profanity that caused the minister and his wife to close their front door hurriedly.

But the Widow Rowell—I mean Mrs. Ananias Sline—merely smiled compassionately, as if she knew that her husband had just cause for exasperation.

Tricked Him.

It was pay day at the Consolidated Coal and Lumber works, and a mine worker was returning home with his monthly envelope. He met a bad man with a pistol, who demanded his wages. The worker handed the money over.

"Now," said he, "my wife will think that I've gambled or drunk. Won't you shoot a hole in my coat, so that I can prove that I was attacked and robbed?"

"Why, certainly so," answered the robber.

The worker held out his coatfall while the other punctured it with a bullet.

"Another," begged the worker, and the other fired again.

"Another," and there was another hole in the garment, another and still another.

"That's all the cartridges I've got," said the robber.

"All the cartridges you've got?" said the worker, picking up a rock. "Then give back that money. Hand over your pistol and whatever else you happen to have."—National Monthly.

Whistler and a Supper.

Though frequently hard up, Whistler had an income which seemed princely to students who lived on nothing at all. If Whistler had money in his pockets, Mr. Joides says, he spent it royally on others. If his pockets were empty, he managed to refill them in a way that still amazes M. Oulvey, who, in proof of it, told us of the night when, after the cafe where they had squandered their last sous on kirsch had closed, he and Lambert and Whistler adjourned to the Halles for supper, ordered the best and ate it. Then he and Lambert stayed in the restaurant as hostages while Whistler, at dawn, went off to find money to pay. He was back when they awoke with 300 or 400 francs in his pocket. He had been to see an American friend, he said, a painter. "And do you know he had the bad manners to abuse the situation? He insisted on my looking at his pictures."—"The Life of James MacNoll Whistler," by E. R. and J. Pennell.

Methuselah Practiced It.

Says Benjamin Franklin in his little essay "On the Art of Preserving Pleasant Dreams."

"It is recorded that Methusalem, who being the longest liver, may be supposed to have best preserved his health, that he slept always in the open air, for when he had lived 500 years an angel said to him, 'Arise, Methusalem, and build thee an house, for thou shalt live 500 years longer.' But Methusalem answered and said: 'If I am to live but 500 years longer, it is not worth while to build me an house. I will sleep in the air, as I have been used to do.'"

This dialogue is not reported in the fifth chapter of Genesis, to be sure, but it is reproduced here out of respect to Franklin as evidence that outdoor sleeping is no fad, but a wise return to the manners of our ancestors.—Harper's Weekly.

Profit in Arresting Deserters.

"The members of the police department are continually on the watch for deserters from the army or navy," explained the man about town. "The reason is that the government sets a price of $25 upon the deserter's head. Of course policemen are anxious to gain the reward and are on the watch."

"The Bowery is the district most frequented by deserters, and that is the first place in the city where search is made for them. A score of deserters are picked up along this thoroughfare every year."

"Before a member of the police department can accept the reward for catching a deserter his claim must be approved by the commissioner. Even then he does not draw the entire amount, for the usual deduction for the police pension fund is made."—New York Sun.

An Arab View of New York.

An Arab who visited New York city is said to have sent this letter home: "People in America travel like rats under the ground [meaning the subway], and like squirrels in the air [meaning the elevated railways], and the buildings are so high that people have to be put in square boxes and pulled to the top by heavy ropes [meaning the elevator]. In the day the sun furnishes the light the same as in Morocco. At night the light is as strong as the day, but people here do not seem to have much use for sleep, as the streets are just as crowded at night as in the day."—Outlook.

Misfit Tails.

It was Robert's first visit to the zoo. "What do you think of the animals?" inquired Uncle Ben.

After a critical inspection of the exhibit the boy replied:

"I think the kangaroo and the elephant should change tails."—Youngstown Telegram.

Secrets.

A man can keep the secret of another better than his own. A woman, on the contrary keeps her own better than that of another.—La Bruyere.

And now Abraham Lincoln rose from his seat, stretched his long, bony limbs upward as if to get them into working order, and stood like some solitary pine on a lonely summit, very tall, very dark, very gaunt and very rugged, his swarthy features stamped with a sad serenity, and the instant he began to speak the ungainly mouth lost its heaviness, the half listless eyes attained wondrous power, and the people stood bewildered and breathless under the natural magic of the strangest, most original personality known to the English speaking world since Robert Burns.

There were other very tall and dark men in the heterogeneous assembly, but not one who resembled the speaker. Every movement of his long, muscular frame denoted indefatigable earnestness, and a something issued forth, elemental and mystical, that told what the man had been, what he was and what he would do in the future.—From "The Valley of Shadows," by Francis Grierson.

Measuring Light Speed.

Even in this speed mad age we can never hope to equal the speed of light, which the scientists tell us is 186,000 miles a second. If light could not actually be measured no one would believe it.

There is a delicate instrument used in measuring light which throws a beam of light upon a revolving disk. There was some doubt about the figures obtained in this way until it was found that when the earth was in the part of its orbit nearest to Jupiter eclipses took place sixteen minutes earlier than when it was in the farthest part, whereas by all rules of astronomy they should have taken place at the same minute each time. It is deduced from this that the light was not instantaneous and consequently took sixteen minutes to traverse the diameter of the earth's orbit, a distance of about 20,000,000 miles, thus giving to light a velocity of 186,000 miles a second, which was accurately shown later by other experiments.—Exchange.

The Taste For Salt.

Concerning the African craving for salt, Livingstone gives interesting testimony. Only the rich among Bak-wandas could afford to buy it, and the poor suffered from indigestion for lack of it. Native doctors accordingly made salt a usual ingredient of their medicine, and Livingstone successfully gave sufferers teaspoonfuls of neat salt. But now comes a notable point. "Either milk or meat had the same effect, though not so rapidly, as salt. Long afterward, when I was myself deprived of salt for four months at two distinct periods, I felt no desire for that condiment, but I was plagued by very great longing for the above articles of food. This continued as long as I was confined to an exclusively vegetable diet, and when I procured a meal of fresh, though boiled in perfectly fresh rain water, it tasted as pleasantly saltish as if slightly impregnated with that condiment."—London Standard.

Scar of Art Theft.

There is a picture at Hampton court which bears witness to a theft that may be termed patriotic. This is Hol-bein's "Field of the Cloth of Gold," which after the downfall of Charles I. Cromwell proposed to sell. But when the would be purchaser came to inspect it he discovered that the head of Henry VIII. had been cut from the canvas. He refused to buy the picture, and it was preserved to the nation. At the restoration a nobleman confessed to having committed the crime for "love of art and country." He returned the missing head, which now occupies its original position, the circle made by the knife in the canvas being still plainly visible.—London Chronicle.

A Regiment of Wrestlers.

Captain Holmes, a famous athlete in the Indian army, raised one of the finest regiments in the British service by the sporting method of challenging all and sundry to wrestle. Those worsted were to enlist, and in a short time the gallant captain was able to show a collection of wrestling prizes that were a credit alike to himself and the army.—London Opinion.

Radium once extracted from the ores becomes available for continued use without appreciable loss and becomes a permanent addition to the needed supply. The same radium that is placed at humanity's service today may be used by our children for many generations.

"I believe I'll promote a transportation company."

"Land or water?"

"The latter, I think. For the former I'd need rails and right of way, but in a water proposition I'll have an ocean to start with."—Exchange.

What is believed to be the first step in a movement to utilize and turn to the commercial advantage the great water power which the valley of upper Guyandotte affords is seen in the incorporation of the Logan Light & Power Co., of Logan, with a capital stock of $1,500,000. It is said the deal is backed by Philadelphia capital and that the intention is to erect a gigantic power house at Logan and from that center to distribute commercial current to the various mining operations in Logan county and along the Guyandotte valley generally.

No Corns to Bump! No Pain, If You Use "GETS-IT."

never fails. That's why millions of people are using "GETS-IT" today and throwing away their fussy plasters, sticky tape, toe-eating salves, and "wrapping outfits" that make a bundle around the toe and choke it into pain by pressing either on or around the corn. There is nothing to stick to your stocking, nothing to cause inflammation or rawness, nothing to press on or around the corn. You apply it in 2 seconds. No more knives, razors, scissors or files, with their blood-poison dangers. Try "GETS-IT" for that corn, callus, wart or bunion.

THE HOME CIRCLE AND ITS INTERESTS.

Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join The Home Circle at Evening Tide.

Own Your Home.

No man who has the opportunity should fail to acquire title to the property in which he is to reside. Until one owns his own home, his life is not as complete as it should be.

Even if a man must go in debt to secure his home, it is the thing for him to do. Paying for a home is as good a game as one can engage in, and the difficulties attending it but lend zest to the struggle. Those who enter the lists almost invariably come out better for the effort.

Really, the chances taken are not formidable. In almost any city, purchase of real estate at a fair valuation is a good business investment. Land values are going up all the while and they will continue to go up for years in cities like ours with desirable influence and every advantage as a residence city, there is not even the prospect of a reversal.

If there did not exist the commercial argument in favor of owning one's home, there would be plenty of other reasons for recommending it. Some one has remarked that it is like reaching the state of paucity. When one acquires a home he has something worth living for—fighting for. It makes him a better citizen and a better member of society. It gives him a substantial interest in the great organization known as government.

Make use of your spare moments by training yourself for a better position. Make your own opportunities. Show the business world you are a live one, then they will receive you with open arms.

Make something out of yourself. Make up your mind at once. Take one moment now, and sum up the number of hours you are actually wasting each day. Many of our most prominent men of this country have won their distinction by making use of their spare moments.

And while it increases a man's sense of obligation to society and his country, it gives him a new sort of freedom. In his own home a man feels at liberty to do things he does not feel like doing in the homes of others. He expands and develops his energy. Perhaps he establishes a talent for mechanics. Perhaps he makes a garden and satisfies an inherent longing to dig and plant. He may never become an inventor or a successful grower of plant life, but he can have the fun and satisfaction of trying without feeling that he is imposing on someone else. If he wants to have a work-bench in the cellar or tear up the lawn for his experiments in gardening, it is his own business.

It costs money to keep up a home, but what of it? It costs money to enjoy any of the pleasures of this life, and there is nothing that gives so big a return for the expenditure as does an abode wherein one can exercise his own will. No other possession he may acquire ever means quite so much to a man as does this first home.

There is no manhood, null which takes in boys and turns out men. What you call "no chance" may be your only chance. Don't wait for your place to be made for you, make it yourself. Don't wait for somebody to give you a lift yourself. Henry Ward Beecher did not wait for a call to a large church with a big salary. He accepted the first pastorate offered him, in a little town near Cincinnati. He became literally the light of the church, for he trimmed the lamps, kindled the fires, swept the rooms, and rang the bell. His salary was only about $200 a year—but he knew that a true church and a great salary cannot make a great man. It was work and opportunity that he wanted. He felt that if there was anything in him, work would bring it out.

The average boy of today who wishes to obtain a liberal education has a better chance by a hundred fold than had Daniel Webster or James A. Garfield. There is scarcely one in good health who reads these lines but can be assured that if he will be here, as elsewhere, the will can usually find the way, and never before was there so many avenues of resource open to the strong will, the inflexible purpose, as there are today.

The three most difficult things to do are—to keep a secret, to forget an injury, and make good use of leisure.

Spare Moments.

What do you do with your spare moments? Do you use them to better yourself, or do you use them for a good time?

You have ambition, every intelligent person has. Why don't you show the world what you can do? Are you waiting for something to turn up that will give you promotion? That is mighty uncertain. You may be waiting thirty years from now for something to turn up and your best days are past. Then what will you do when you realize your life has been a failure? When you go down the street, look around and you can see examples of people who have been waiting for something to turn up. Ask them and they will tell you where they made their mistakes.

Make use of your spare moments by training yourself for a better position. Make your own opportunities. Show the business world you are a live one, then they will receive you with open arms.

Make something out of yourself. Make up your mind at once. Take one moment now, and sum up the number of hours you are actually wasting each day. Many of our most prominent men of this country have won their distinction by making use of their spare moments.

Suffered Twenty-One Years-- Finally Found Relief

Having suffered for twenty-one years with a pain in my side, I finally found relief in Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Injections of morphine were my only relief for short periods of time. I became so sick that I had to undergo a surgical operation in New Orleans, which benefited me for two years. When the same pain came back one day I was so sick that I gave up hopes of living. A friend advised me to try your Swamp-Root and I at once commenced using it. The first bottle did me so much good that I purchased two more bottles. I am now on my second bottle and am feeling like a new woman. I passed a gravel stone as large as a big red bean and several small ones. I have not had the least feeling of pain since taking your Swamp-Root and I feel it my duty to recommend this great medicine to all suffering humanity. Gratefully yours,

MRS. JOSEPH CONSTANCE, Rapids Par. Echo, La. Personally appeared before me, this 15th day of July, 1911, Mrs. Joseph Constance, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact. Wm. Morrow, Notary Public.

LETCHER COUNTY AND WHITESBURG.

What is Happening in this Rich Coal Territory of Kentucky.

Whitesburg, Ky., Nov. 3.—Reports from all the different voting precincts in Letcher county is to the effect that the bond issue is receiving but little attention, and that it will be hopelessly defeated by a large majority. For some time it has been seen that the issue would be a failure as but little effort was made to carry the question successfully through.

A $75,000 road bond issue was the question. Most of the country precincts will "snow under" the question, while it is expected to carry by small majorities in the Whitesburg, Jenkins, McRoberts and Fleming districts.

Word from the most of the voting precincts in Letcher county is to the effect that an unusually small vote is being polled—the smallest in several years. There will be a falling off of both political parties, it is believed. Very little interest is manifested, although the Republicans made an effort several days ago to get out the full vote. It is believed that Langley and Hatcher for Congress will run pretty close.

The Commercial Club banquet fostered by Attorney H. M. Denton, secretary of the club, held in the parlors of the Whitesburg hotel Saturday night, Oct. 21, in which were present a large number of the best business men in Eastern Kentucky, was an elaborate and well-arranged affair—an event long to be remembered by those present. Manager G. M. Gillette of the Consolidation Coal Co., Jenkins, Dr. W. L. Gambill, Jenkins; W. E. Williams, Jackson; R. T. Cole, Fleming; Edwin P. Morrow, Somerset; D. D. Fields, this city, were the leading speakers, all making interesting talks along co-operation and "pull together" lines, all tending toward the up-building and the further development—the well being—of the mountains, the glorious hill country. Mr. Williams spoke largely on "Commercial and Banking Interests of Eastern Kentucky." He said: "We must lay a foundation for our future posterity. Prepare for the day that is coming when our mines and forests will be

IS YOUR BLOOD RICH?
Poor Blood
is the indirect cause of much winter sickness—it allows chills, invites colds and sickness.
Nourishment alone makes blood—not drugs or liquors—and the nourishing food in Scott's Emulsion charges summer blood with winter richness and increases the red corpuscles.
Its Cod Liver Oil warms the body, fortifies the lungs, and alleviates rheumatic tendencies.

SCOTT & BOWNE, BLOOMFIELD, N. J.

Mr. Twigg, would you permit me to say that I shall wear a white coat—ahem! I'm not an Eastern Kentucky? One of the vast strides of development his company (The Elk Horn Mining Corporation) has made in the building of their trio of cities, Fleming, Haymond and Hemphill, in this county. His talk was interesting from first to last.

As a result of the meeting and banquet great good will result, and other meetings will be held, bringing the different business interests together for mutual good.

Deputy U. S. Marshal G. A. Sizemore, of Hyden, Leslie county, came here this week, having in custody two moonshiners, Andy Shepherd and F. H. Smith, Perry county moonshiners and bootleggers and the offenders of the company's plant in Jenkins, this county, about two years ago and immediately entered suit. It was fought along until the last term of court when it was tried out resulting in a verdict for $5000.

Rush work characterizes the construction of the narrow gauge lumber road for the Day Bros. Lumber & Coal Co. from a point near Roxana on the main line of the L. & E. up King's creek, about six miles, where the company owns a large area of fine timber, consisting of perhaps the best boundary of oak and poplar in the mountains. A large number of men are at work on the grade and the work will be rushed as rapidly as possible. It is expected that within three or four months the road will be completed and in operation.

Commonwealth's Attorney R. Monroe Fields returned here from Pikeville where he has been for some time in attendance upon the Pike Circuit Court. The grand jury is making a most thorough and systematic investigation into the vote traffic of Pike county, which body is returning a large number of indictments. It is said the investigation will be continued until every evil along the line will be thoroughly probed.

It is said here today that several new cases of smallpox have developed in the vicinity of Hemphill, in the Boone's Fork coal fields and that the officials will take the matter in hand to prevent any further spread of the disease.

YOU'RE BILIOUS AND COSTIVE!---CASCARETS

To-night! Clean your bowels and end Headaches, Colds, Sour Stomach.

Get a 10-cent box now.
Furred Tongue, Bad Colds, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

PIKE COUNTY NEWS

RETURNS FROM PIKE COUNTY.

An old time demonstration greeted Congressman-elect John W. Langley upon his arrival here from his campaign tour Tuesday night. A great throng met the train and the Pikeville band played amidst a din of cheers, and despite a deeply seated cold the Congressman acknowledged his appreciation in warm terms.

Out of 27 precincts in Pike county returns from 22 precincts at Wednesday morning reported the following vote:

For the Senatorial long term, Beckham 2124, Willson 2626, Vance 27, Short term, Camden 2124, Bullitt 2626, Nicholas 27. For Congress, Hatcher 2123, Langley 2721. The other five precincts are expected to add greatly to the Republican majorities.

Incomplete returns received here from Letcher county report a general Republican majority of 749 votes.

BULL ATTACKED MAN.

Robt. Hylton, a farmer living at Lookout and relative of J. M. Bowling and Wm. L. Bowling, of Pikeville, narrowly escaped death by being attacked by a bull at his home last Sunday morning.

A drove of cattle was left on his farm by a cattle merchant the day before, and Hylton entered the barn yard to feed them when the animal attacked him. Fortunately the bull had no horns, and this saved him from certain death. The exertions of several of his neighbors was required to beat the animal off, but before he was rescued several ribs had been broken and he was otherwise badly bruised up. His injuries were so nearly fatal that his life now hangs in the balance.

HELLIER REVIVAL CLOSING.

A great revival recently held at the Methodist church at Hellier under the direction of Rev. S. A. Steele, of West Union, Ohio, and Rev. Wade Rowe, the pastor, has just closed after a splendid success. This meeting resulted in 32 conversions and ten additions to the church.

MRS. THOS. I. REYNOLDS.

Mrs. T. I. Reynolds died at her home at Coal Run last Monday morning after an illness of several months. Mrs. Reynolds was attacked by typhoid fever quite a while ago, and from this she never completely recovered. The lingering effects of the fever are responsible for her death.

The funeral and interment took place at the Coal Run cemetery Wednesday morning, and several Pikeville relatives attended. Rev. M. C. Reynolds, brother of the deceased husband, preached the funeral sermon.

CUPID IN PIKE.

The following marriage permits were issued from the office of the clerk of the Pike County Court during the past week:

Stephen J. Candill, the 21-year-old son of J. D. Candill, merchant of Pikeville, to Miss Sara L. Fife, 19. They were married at Pikeville Oct. 28th. Geo. Bayersach to Miss Laura Goff, of Sutton, Ky.
C. L. Stepp to Miss Emma M. Fields, of Jenkins.
Clay Farley to Miss Bertha Harris, of Mouth Card.
John Compton, to Mrs. Vergie Mullins, of Belcher Siding.

BOOTLEGGING COMPLAINT PROVES BOOMERANG.

Complaints made by citizens of Mingo county, W. Va., against alleged bootlegging operations of lawless Pike county people have resulted in the indictment of three liquor dealers of West Virginia on investigation before the grand jury.

The complaint in question was of official character, and was embodied in a letter written six weeks ago to Circuit Judge J. M. Roberson here by Probation Officer Fred O. Blue, of Charleston, W. Va., and it was not based upon information gathered through official channels, but "upon complaint of citizens of Mingo county." Upon receipt of this information Judge Roberson presented the facts to the grand jury then beginning its probe into charges of election bribery, and strongly instructed them to return true bills against all persons found guilty of having liquor stored within the bounds of this county under the protection of a federal license, which resulted in the indictment of R. W. Buskirk, Jeff Hatfield and a negro helper named Shorty.

It is alleged that before the state of West Virginia went dry these men who formerly owned and operated saloons at Miteawan, W. Va., removed their entire stock of goods across the Tug river into Pike county, and stored their intoxicants to await developments favorable to the sale of it in Kentucky. The plan to secure a wet foothold in this state was to secure a division of Pike county, splitting it lengthwise and establishing a county seat at the mouth of Pond creek, near Williamson, W. Va., the Mingo county seat, and then declare the precinct wet by virtue of an election held twelve years ago.

The prohibition element of Pike county claims that this election was void because the entire county is dry under a decree of the Legislature known as the Hilliard act.

A special term of the Pike Circuit Court will be convened early in December to try these and other indictments.

GRAND JURY ADJOURNS IN MIST OF BIG PROBE.

After more than a month's work on the sensational probe into charges of election bribery in Pike county, in which more than one thousand indictments were returned, the grand jury adjourned here last Saturday and dispersed to their various homes in the county to spend the election week. On Monday, Nov. 9, the jury will reconvene for ten days more of work on this and other investigations now pending.

This has been the longest and most industrious session of the grand jury held in Pike county in years, and its results have been more comprehensive and far-reaching than any previous term. The present investigation into charges of vote selling in this county is the greatest ever undertaken in Kentucky, and may result in 1500 indictments.

HEALTH CAMPAIGN CHANGED.

The campaign for better health conditions which Dr. M. W. Steele and corps of assistants of Bowling Green has been conducting in Pike county during the past few weeks, has met with considerable success throughout the county, but the result so far has not been quite as good as expected, owing to the fact that the people in whose interest this great specialist has been so faithfully working have not responded with their good will as readily as he had expected.

Dr. Steele is not touring the other side of Pike county as he had originally intended to do. He has been to his home in Bowling Green Monday and Tuesday of this week, and returned here Tuesday night to resume the work. He will tour the eastern half of the county later, establishing headquarters at Stone, Ky., on Pond creek, as it has been found impracticable to attempt it from here.

The people are urged to attend and show that they have some interest in their own welfare. Hookworm, to provide a cure for which Rockefeller has spent so much money, has a stronger hold upon Pike county than the people think, and it is to provide this cure free of charge to the people of Pike county, and to help them rid themselves completely of typhoid fever that Dr. Steele has spent much of his valuable time among us; it is therefore the duty of our people to see that his efforts shall not fail.

DELIGHTFULLY ENTERTAINED.

In honor of the evangelist Roud Shaw, of the Christian Church, who has been conducting a series of evangelistic meetings in the court room at Pikeville during the past two weeks, James Renfro entertained the following clerical friends to a five o'clock dinner at the home of Mrs. W. O. B. Hatfield on Main street last Sunday afternoon: Rev. Shaw, I. N. Fannin, of the M. E. Church South; Revs. Daniels, of the Christian Church, and Daves, of the Baptist Church, also Mr. C. M. Jackson. Evangelist Shaw and Mr. Renfro were born and reared in Henry county, Ky., and have been lifelong friends.

Party Line Courtesy

The quality of service on a party line is largely dependent upon the co-operation of the subscribers on that line.

No subscriber should use a party line for long periods of time, to the total exclusion of others.

When a party line is found to be in use, it is the part of courtesy to hang up your receiver immediately. While it is off the hook conversation is interfered with.

Each neighbor on a party line is entitled to the use of the telephone service as well as every other, and should not be interrupted or have the privacy of his conversation interfered with.

The Golden Rule applies with particular force to party line telephone service.

CELEBRATORS COMMIT DEPREDACTIONS.

Halloween 1914 at Pikeville brought a recurrence of unwarranted damages inflicted on the same occasion in 1913, only on a larger scale. An unfeeling populace awoke last Sunday morning to find the city in a topsy-turvy condition from end to end, and most of the work of the nocturnal marauders was actual damage to property instead of innocent amusement, strongly suggesting malicious mischief.

In many places wagons and other debris had been converted into barricades across the streets, and Division avenue, near the Public Square, looked very much as if it German army had passed through. A saw mill smoke stack taken from the Call Bros. Hardware store was placed across the avenue, and bales of barbed wire, Burnside stoves, window weights, twisted signs, and other iron furnishings were strewn promiscuously so as to form a complete barrier to all traffic, and in this condition the avenue remained until Monday morning.

Fines were imposed by the Police Court Monday upon a number who confessed to having taken a hand in the mischief.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

The State Agricultural School under the direction of Commissioner of Agriculture J. W. Newman, of Frankfort, will hold its annual institute at Pikeville Monday and Tuesday of next week, and every farmer of the county who can attend should not fail to do so. This is of vital importance to the agricultural interests of Pike county, and the state is spending a large amount of money each year to show the farmers of every county the scientific methods of producing more and better agricultural products by better farming. Every well informed farmer knows the value of these institutes and what they mean toward the improvement of a farming community. It is therefore the duty of every man who tills the soil to hear what Commissioner Newman has to say to the people through his lecturers, and so everybody should attend.

Come to Pikeville and bring your families next Monday and Tuesday. The lectures will be free.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

The annual oyster supper intended to have been given at the Presbyterian Church last Friday evening was not held on account of inclement weather. The ladies of the church have announced that the supper will be given this Friday evening, and all are invited to attend.

A parade in which the students of the Pikeville Schools of Pikeville joined marched through the streets of the city led by the Pikeville Concert Band last Thursday evening. At 7 o'clock the paraders passed into the spacious Circuit Court room, followed by a throng, where they heard the evening sermon of the great revivalist, Roud Shaw.

John Gregory, who has been down with typhoid fever for several weeks, is now rapidly recovering.
Dr. J. B. Whitehead, president of Pikeville College, returned last week from a business visit to Pennsylvania. U. K. Williams spent last Saturday and Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. J. F. Justice, at Jenkins.

The case of Lockhart vs. Billeter, involving the question of the ownership of a hog, was settled here in Circuit Court last week after it had been standing upon continuances for two years. The costs in this case will amount to about $300. Lockhart, who Tom Williams has moved with his family to the W. B. Syck residence on Chloe creek.

John Keathley and family have moved into the home formerly occupied by James Scott, the groceryman, on Kentucky avenue. Mr. Keathley recently purchased this property.

Mrs. T. H. Hargan and two infant daughters have been the guests of friends at Jenkins for several days of this week.

Mrs. A. F. Childress is spending the week with relatives at Hellier.

Dr. J. W. Stephenson paid a brief professional call to Paintsville Wednesday.

Mrs. Chas. R. Fuller and two infant children, of Stanton, Va., are the guests of Judge and Mrs. J. M. Roberson at Pikeville for a few weeks.

Word reaching here from the John Hopkins hospital in Baltimore, where Morell Morris, of this city, is being treated for an attack of blindness, states that he is greatly improved, and that in a short time he will be able to return home with his eyesight partially restored.

A gang of negro bricklayers from Lexington arrived here last Monday to work on the new school building. Considerable hard feeling exists between the Lexington sub-contractor and white bricklayers of Pikeville, as the latter consider that they were justly entitled to the work.

THE GRIDIRON.

The Paintsville football team last Saturday came down on the Louisa aggregation "like the wolf on the fold." Their "cohorts" were not "dealing with silver and gold," but they didn't leave a grease spot of Louianism. Score 6 to 0.

The Louisa team will go to Paintsville Saturday for a return game.

PE-RU-NA LAXATIVE- TONIC

"I was taken with a severe headache and cold, which finally brought on constipation and bowel trouble. Physics of all kinds were used, and we were obliged to resort to the fountain syringe for help. I could drink castor oil like water, but it did no good. Salts were of no use. The doctors were puzzled. After using three bottles of Peruna I consider myself entirely well." Mr. John B. SICK, SOUR STOMACH, INDIGESTION OR GAS

"Pape's Diapiesin" makes upset stomachs feel fine in five minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt, if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps, head dizziness and aches, belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food, breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapiesin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion, if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.
